

WEALTH MANAGEMENT

‘The Great Retirement’ Puts Financial, Estate Planning Center Stage

FINANCE: Wealth Managers Share Insights in SDBJ Roundtable Discussion

By JEFF CLEMETSON

Baby Boomers, the generation born between 1946 and 1964 that make up 28% of the U.S. population, are currently amid what is being dubbed “The Great Retirement.”

According to the Pew Research Center, 75 million Baby Boomers are expected to retire by 2030, and the pace of their retirement is currently accelerating. In 2020, nearly 30 million Baby Boomers retired – up 213% over 2019’s number of retirees.

For those at or near retirement, making it through the golden years with some financial stability is a top concern. Longer life expectancy, rising healthcare costs and volatility on the markets make the decision to retire a difficult one to make and for those in retirement, a difficult financial path to navigate.

In addition to planning for their own retirement, many Baby Boomers are also in need of a plan to transfer wealth to their children in what will be the largest transfer of wealth from one generation to another in all of history.

Despite the complexities of retirement and estate planning, a majority of U.S. households do not have a sufficient plan in place and even more do not utilize the professional services of wealth managers or financial planners or advisors who have expertise in structuring plans that grow and manage wealth.

In this sponsored special section of the San Diego Business Journal, eight of the region’s leading financial planners and wealth managers share expertise and advice on common issues people come across when they are planning for retirement and setting up their estate. ■

BAMBOS CHARALAMBOUS
Managing Director, Market Team Lead
J.P. Morgan Private Bank, San Diego

Bambos Charalambous is Managing Director, Market Team Lead for J.P. Morgan Private Bank in San Diego, California. In this role, Bambos oversees a team of local professionals who provide a holistic approach providing wealth management advice, strategies and services to successful individuals, family offices, foundations and endowments throughout the San Diego area. Bambos and his team deliver wide-ranging financial advice across investments, credit, banking, fiduciary and estate planning to meet the complex needs of their clients. Bambos has been with J.P. Morgan for over 20 years, beginning his career at the Private Bank in the Europe Middle East and Africa Strategy Team. Bambos is the Co-Chair of JPMorgan Chase’s Market Leadership Team for San Diego and proudly serves on the Board of the Ronald McDonald House Charities of San Diego.

MATT HANSEN
Senior Vice President - Wealth Management, USA
UBS

Matt Hansen, a local San Diegan, is a certified financial planner (CFP®) and certified exit planning advisor (CEPA®) helping business owners in every stage of their life cycle. He strives to provide resources and capital to help business owners grow, investment banking resources to help them sell, merge or go public, and personalized financial and wealth management advice along the way coupling their financial plan with their overall business plan to help maximize the value of their company and create a successful exit and liquidity event. Hansen’s promise to clients is: “From growth to maturity to exit — and beyond — we walk alongside business owners every step of the way.”

MARK KREMERS
Managing Director & Market Executive
Bank of America Merrill Lynch

Mark Kremers is a Managing Director and Market Executive for Bank of America Merrill Lynch. Prior to the most recent appointment in San Diego, he served as Market Executive for three different markets within the firm’s West Division: Desert Inland Empire, Cal Nevada, and Orange County Inland Empire, with most recent oversight of more than 250 associates and $24 billion in client assets. Kremers was the recipient of the National Leadership Award for the MLWM Cal Nevada Market in 2017, the Orange County Inland Empire Market in 2018 and the San Diego Market in 2019, 2021 and 2022. He is the Chairman of the Merrill Lynch Market Executive Strategy Council as well as the San Diego Market Integration Executive for Bank of America. Kremers is responsible for building a world-class sales and service team.

STEFAN MEIERHOFER
President & CEO
Telos Capital Management, Inc.

As President and CEO of Telos Capital Management, Inc., Stefan Meierhofer provides overall leadership and management of the firm. He has over 30 years of investment management experience and actively provides investment advice to clients and helps them implement strategies to reach their financial and lifestyle goals. Meierhofer serves on various Investment Advisory Committees, including the San Diego Rescue Mission (SDRM), where he provides his expertise to the Finance Committee. He also serves on the City of San Diego’s Investment Advisory Committee, which is charged with reviewing the investment policy and practices of the City Treasurer and recommending changes when appropriate. Meierhofer is a member of the CFA Institute and the CFA Society of San Diego, where he served as president during the 2001-2002 fiscal year.

MICHAEL MOORE
Chief Investment Officer & Co-Managing Director
American Money Management, LLC

Michael Moore is the Chief Investment Officer and Co-Managing Director of American Money Management, LLC (AMM). He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Finance from Boston College. He chairs the AMM Investment Committee, and oversees trading and asset allocation decisions for retirement and individual portfolios. Additionally, he is a co-manager of the AMM Dividend Growth Strategy, a portfolio strategy that seeks to invest in high quality dividend growth stocks at attractive prices. He is a member of the CFA Institute and the CFA Society of San Diego, and he serves as the Endowment Chair for the Rancho Santa Fe Education Foundation. Moore lives in Rancho Santa Fe with his wife and son.

DEREK MYRON
Managing Director
Centura Wealth Advisory

Derek Myron has been serving high net-worth individuals and families since 1998, assisting them in the creation and implementation of carefully crafted plans to solve both their financial, and many times their life goals. Myron’s North Star is helping others achieve their highest potential professionally and personally. Myron is the product of a two-parent-teacher household that emphasized excelling in school and helping others. He received his Business Administration undergraduate degree with a Finance concentration from the University of Washington. He’s held the Certified Financial Planner “CFP” designation since 2001. Myron is passionate and receives great joy in developing and implementing Liberated Wealth® plans for the firm’s clientele and helping them achieve their life goals through an impactful change to their financial well-being.

KYLE QUINN
Managing Director & Senior Wealth Advisor
Mariner Wealth Advisors

Kyle Quinn has more than 25 years of financial services experience and provides comprehensive wealth management solutions for business owners, executives, and families. He manages the San Diego office and serves on the Mariner Wealth Advisors’ leadership council, collaborating to provide strategic direction to the firm. Prior to joining Mariner Wealth Advisors in 2010, Quinn ran a financial planning practice inside of CBIZ CPA’s Southern California offices. Prior to that he was with NSBN, a CPA firm in Beverly Hills. Quinn also has experience working with the private client groups of the major national investment firms as a specialist. Quinn is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professional and Chartered Life Underwriter.

BRENT WILSEY
President
Wilsey Asset Management, Inc.

Brent Wilsey is a seasoned financial strategist with over 43 years of experience in the field. He is the President of Wilsey Asset Management, Inc., an SEC Registered Investment Advisory Firm, through which he offers day-to-day investment guidance to both individual investors and corporations. A financial management veteran with half a billion currently under management, Wilsey’s industry expertise and credibility has made him a sought-after expert source with the media. He frequently serves as a guest commentator on national broadcast television and radio talk shows, as well as regular television segments on KUSI. Currently, both Brent and his son, Chase Wilsey host a weekly Smart Investing Radio Show, which airs Saturdays 8-9 a.m., on 97.3FM The Fan and AM760.

Management

➔ from page 15

What are some strategies to transition from working income to post-retirement income?

Michael Moore

Transitioning from having a reliable regular paycheck to relying on retirement savings can be daunting. We find it valuable for retirees to separate the types of retirement income they will receive into three categories.

Guaranteed sources of income. This includes social security, guaranteed pensions, annuities and/or other sources of guaranteed income.

Liquid retirement savings. IRAs, 401ks or even traditional brokerage accounts with accumulated savings that are earmarked for retirement.

Illiquid income producing assets. This could be in the form of rental properties, alternative income investments or other passive income.

Viewing sources of income by their underlying characteristics (liquid vs illiquid, guaranteed vs. variable) can help determine where potential weaknesses are to more effectively invest retirement savings. For example, a retired UCSD professor with a guaranteed pension covering nearly all of her living expenses may be more suited for growth in her retirement investments since her expenses are largely covered (i.e. she can afford the risk).

Mark Kremers

Working closely with an advisor to make decisions as you approach retirement can make a big difference in your post-retirement income, in terms of how much money will be available to you. Understanding when it's most appropriate for you to claim Social Security, apply for Medicare and access what you have saved with a tax-efficient distribution strategy can help you avoid issues and make the most of your retirement assets. In fact, we advise clients to check in with your financial advisor and tax advisors regularly in the years leading up to retirement to assess your progress toward goals.

Stefan Meierhofer

Before making the decision to retire, they'll have to calculate how much money they need in retirement. They can tally today's expenses and then estimate which expenses might rise or decline in retirement. A general rule of thumb is that their retirement expenses will be 70-85% of what they were pre-retirement. Next, they should compare their expenses with their anticipated retirement income from all sources: Social Security, pension, withdrawals from savings, and part-time work after retirement (if applicable). They need to determine what types of accounts they have. If their money is in a 401(k), IRA or other tax-deferred account, every withdrawal will be subject to income taxes. If they have a Roth account, for which contributions were made with after-tax dollars, withdrawals from that account will not be taxed.

While not a one-size-fits-all approach, they might consider what's known as the 4% rule, which means that they will withdraw no more than 4% of the account balance a year.

When it comes to generating investment income, they should consider transitioning investments from a growth to a total return strategy that allows them to meet their spending needs. That means investing in dividend-paying stocks and bonds, which make regular interest payments.

Brent Wilsey

This can be difficult for people going from receiving a paycheck every couple weeks to mostly living off of the income from their investments. We try to keep this procedure simple for the clients and tell them one of the most important things they need to come up with is a budget before they retire, and what their budget will be after they retire. They need to realize that their spending habits will change. Example will be their transportation cost will probably decline and perhaps even lunch expenses because they'll be eating at home more. After we receive the budget, we then look at the income sources that they will have such as pension plans, Social Security, and income from investments. We also want to look at their tax situation because their taxes should go down, but a good understanding of the taxes they pay before and after is important.

What factors/issues should people consider when weighing early retirement?

Bambos Charalambous

There are many moving pieces to align when preparing for retirement. Balancing your financial, emotional and social needs as you create an identity separate from your working years is an important part of making this transition and identifying the right time to retire. Identify your income sources, including social security income, employer retirement plans, employer-granted securities, as well as your investment portfolio, and create a plan for how you plan to use those sources of income in your retirement years.

You can consider delaying taking social security benefits until age 70 to increase your monthly benefits by 8% for each year past the full retirement age (66 or 67 depending on when you were born). One should also consider whether you may be willing to take less risk in your investment portfolio once you retire and anticipate how your spending will change over time. For example, Medicare eligibility begins at age 65, but you'll need interim coverage if you decide to retire earlier. Many people also find they spend more in their first decade of retirement, often because they give more to family, so it's critical to plan for your financial needs and how you would like to spend your early retirement years.

Brent Wilsey

If they were to retire before 59 ½, they must realize that any money they would take out from a retirement account would be penalized for early withdrawal unless they use section 72T which allows equal payments or a certain timeframe. However, once that is elected, it cannot be changed, or they would be required to go back and pay taxes on the monthly distributions.

It is also important to consider that with advances in medical technologies, the likelihood of people living to age 100 is becoming more realistic. If a person retires in their 50s after working perhaps 30 years, their investments have to not just last 50 more years, but also keep pace with inflation. Future retirees should count on Social Security, but it may be cut in 15 or 20 years so that too should be put in the equation and not expect Social Security to be, as perhaps, as large as one thought.

➔ Management page 18

AMERICAN MONEY
MANAGEMENT, LLC

SEC Registered Investment Advisor

Our Business is Your Future

INCOME NOW, MORE INCOME LATER

The ability to generate income from your investments is likely a determining factor in whether you achieve your goals. We build customized investment portfolios that draw upon traditional and creative approaches to help generate the income you need now and later.

Contact Michael Moore or Gabriel Wisdom | 858-755-0909 | www.AMMinvest.com

We're honored to be named
World's Best Private Bank
four years in a row.*
Let us show you why.

Whether you're focused on building, preserving or transferring your wealth, our team in San Diego is here to help you achieve all you envision. The specialists in our local office work with you and your family to meet your goals with an elevated private banking experience.

CONNECT WITH US*Bambos Charalambous

Managing Director

bambos.i.charalambous@jpmorgan.comJ.P.Morgan

PRIVATE BANK

PLAN INVEST BORROW BANK

INVESTMENT PRODUCTS: • NOT FDIC INSURED • NO BANK GUARANTEE • MAY LOSE VALUE

**Global Finance Magazine*, 2023. Awards or rankings are not indicative of future results.

© 2023 JPMorgan Chase & Co. All rights reserved.

Management

➔ from page 16

Mark Kremers

Even if you have enough assets to retire, there are many complex decisions to be made before actually retiring. Just to name a few, there's the potential for relying on an unsustainable withdrawal rate in the early years, the probability of increasing healthcare costs as you age, and the risk of making costly withdrawal and tax mistakes when dealing with multiple retirement accounts.

Advisors can help you in many ways before retiring at any age, including helping to review income sources and expenses, plan goals, and revisit investment strategies if need be. An advisor can help think through any necessary trade-offs or missteps.

And the obvious factor to remember is that if you retire before age 59½, withdrawals from employer-sponsored retirement plans and IRAs are subject to an additional 10% federal tax on early withdrawals, in addition to regular income tax on the distributions. For a distribution from a Roth IRA to be federally tax free, it must be qualified. Talking to your tax professional can be helpful with these rules as well.

Kyle Quinn

There are four areas to consider – and not just the financial calculations.

What are you going to spend your time doing? Who are you going to be spending time with? Most people can't play golf all the time and their friend groups are typically still working.

Do you have a realistic budget and plan? We typically see oversized spending early for our younger retirees. Also, what is your income plan? Where is money coming from and is it tax efficient?

Health care for families can be very expensive without the company plan and before Medicare kicks in. Healthcare and insurance costs have risen dramatically.

Have you sufficiently planned and invested for a long retirement? Do you have a 40-plus years financial plan? I have a client who's 98 years old and sharp as a tack who tells me getting to age 105 is her plan. Note: she has been retired longer than she worked.

Michael Moore

Retiring early is challenging even for wealthy clients because most clients want to continue their current lifestyle in retirement or add expenses like increased travel and expensive hobbies. The first question is always: "Do I have enough?"

Someone who has accumulated a sizeable retirement portfolio, may "feel" wealthy enough to retire. But inflation, increased lifestyle expenses, and large, unexpected expenses like long-term care needs in the future can take a big bite out of a retirement portfolio.

Laying out a framework for what post-retirement life really looks like and incorporating these unexpected expenses is important. This is especially true for early retirees. In our experience, the most happy and successful early retirees are thoughtful and intentional about planning their retirement lifestyle before they make the leap. Having a holistic plan allows them to transition with confidence.

Retirement by the numbers

50% of women and 47% of men aged 55-66 have no retirement savings. Source: U.S. Census Bureau data

55% of Americans report being behind in their retirement savings plan. Source: Bankrate

35% The percentage of people who utilize wealth management/financial advisor services in the U.S. Source: Northwestern Mutual: "2022 Planning & Progress Study"

Stefan Meierhofer

While we tend to give lots of thought to planning for the financial aspects of retirement, we often overlook the psychological impact of retiring. The truth is that retiring from work is a major life change that can bring benefits as well as stress. For many of us, working is about more than just earning money; it also adds meaning and purpose to our lives.

Some find it difficult to fill the extra hours they now have with meaningful activity and experience a decline in how useful, important, or self-confident they feel. Individuals that consider early retirement should take time to ponder how and where they'd like to spend their time and effort, and what passions and pursuits they would like to explore.

Other important aspects to consider include a long life expectancy (about 78 years in U.S.); adjusting withdrawals to market volatility; cost of health care; tax penalties for early withdrawal from certain retirement accounts; and the benefits of delaying Social Security payments.

In a changing interest environment and possible recession, what investment strategies are useful for retirees or near-retirees?

Matt Hansen

Diversification is important in any market environment. A diversified portfolio can help retirees mitigate risk and protect their wealth. It is also important to match assets with liabilities to ensure any sale or liquidation to support current income is done from money markets, CDs, short term corporate bonds and treasuries. Bonds can be a safe investment for retirees because they provide a steady income stream and are less volatile than stocks. With yields higher than 2021, investors are able to get above average interest rates with investment grade corporate bonds and U.S. treasuries. Also, real estate can be a good investment for retirees because it provides steady income and can appreciate in value over time. Finally, it's important for retirees to have a cash reserve to cover unexpected expenses and provide a source of income during market downturns.

Stefan Meierhofer

In reality, the economic environment should not drive a retiree's investment allocation at all. How much they spend, along with their psychological and financial ability to handle loss should be the driving factors in how their accounts are invested. When you are retired, you want to know that you'll be able to continue receiving enough income to maintain your lifestyle for the rest of your life – which can be 20, 30 or more years. Creating an investment policy that spells out in advance how much you will allocate to a diverse array of asset classes and market sectors is the best way to avoid the emotional mistake

Determining and Enhancing Valuation Before Selling a Business: Critical Steps Every Owner Should Consider When Planning an Exit Strategy

By Matt Hansen, CFP®, CEPA®

When a business owner has made a decision to exit the operation of the company – whether the business is worth $10 million or $2 billion – it's critical to have an accurate understanding of the valuation of the company, as well as a team in place to maximize value at the time of the sale. However, according to a study, 98% of business owners do not value their businesses on an annual basis.* Determining and enhancing a company's valuation may have far reaching implications for business owners many years after they exit the operation of the company, so steps to solidify value should be taken long before an owner decides to step aside. Whether the objective is to sell, merge or go public, a team of advisors and a sound exit planning strategy should be assembled before a liquidity event takes place. The process of assessing valuation as part of an exit planning strategy may be perceived as too expensive or unnecessary, but there are resources available for business owners who operate companies of any size.

The process can start with an informal valuation that's available usually at little to no cost, and coupled with a consultation with an exit planning advisor who can explain what resources may be available for each owner. The discovery process for exit planning typically integrates creation of a business plan with a personal wealth management plan. An assessment of a company's valuation can determine which consultants may be enlisted during the process of a sale. This determination may fall into one of two scenarios: If an owner has sufficient net-after-taxes funds to maintain the lifestyle they envision in retirement, then investment bankers, tax and estate planning attorneys and CPAs can be enlisted to help with pre-liquidity event planning. If an owner needs to grow the value of the company prior to sale, value accelerators may be brought on board to help drive revenue, financial accountants, fractional CFOs and auditors can be employed to ensure financial readiness and prepare for quality of earnings due diligence, address accounting issues prior to sale, and manage through the transition or integration with the buyer. Whether you're ready to sell your company now, or still years away from executing an exit plan, proper preparation will be essential if you want to maximize the value of your company at the time of the sale, and manage your personal wealth in the aftermath of the sale. A complimentary consultation about valuation is available to business owners at ubs.com/team/hansenwm.

*Source: IBIS World Industry Report OD4797 Business Valuation Firms in the US June, 2014

Matt Hansen is a Financial Advisor with UBS Financial Services Inc. a subsidiary of UBS AG. Member FINRA/SIPC in 17180 Bernardo Center Drive, San Diego CA 92128. The information contained in this article is not a solicitation to purchase or sell investments. Any information presented is general in nature and not intended to provide individually tailored investment advice. Investing involves risks and there is always the potential of losing money when you invest. The views expressed herein are those of the author and may not necessarily reflect the views of UBS Financial Services Inc. Neither UBS Financial Services Inc. nor its employees (including its Financial Advisors) provide tax or legal advice. You should consult with your legal counsel and/or your accountant or tax professional regarding the legal or tax implications of a particular suggestion, strategy or investment, including any estate planning strategies, before you invest or implement. As a firm providing wealth management services to clients, UBS Financial Services Inc. offers investment advisory services in its capacity as an SEC-registered investment adviser and brokerage services in its capacity as an SEC-registered broker-dealer. Investment advisory services and brokerage services are separate and distinct, differ in material ways and are governed by different laws and separate arrangements. It is important that you understand the ways in which we conduct business, and that you carefully read the agreements and disclosures that we provide to you about the products or services we offer. For more information, please review client relationship summary provided at ubs.com/relationshipsummary, or ask your UBS Financial Advisor for a copy. Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards Inc. owns the certification marks CFP®, CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ and federally registered CFP (with flame design) in the U.S., which it awards to individuals who successfully complete CFP Board's initial and ongoing certification requirements. For designation disclosures visit <https://www.ubs.com/us/en/designation-disclosures.html>.

of selling out when markets sell off. What drives the asset allocation decision is your age and risk tolerance level, not the current state of the market.

Bambos Charalambous

Moving more defensively in portfolios by investing in core fixed income offers the potential for protection, yield, and capital appreciation. We still think fixed income is set to deliver steady returns in a slower growth and lower inflation environment. Bonds have exceeded expectations so far this year, and we may get better entry points in the weeks and months ahead.

Brent Wilsey

Retirees and future retirees need to forget about the short term and realize that they could be in retirement for 20 to 30 years. I think it's very silly how people sell their long-term investments and get all excited about investing into a short-term T-bills for six months and earning over 4%. It may sound good now because you won't have any more declines in your portfolio, but it will really hurt your income down the road investing in short-term vehicles. We recommend quality value equities that pay very good dividends over time.

We recommend that clients take no more than an annualized 6% distribution rate, and understand that the principal will go up and down, but remember the quality investments they have in their portfolio, and that they are investing for many years. We tell clients to look at their portfolio twice a year - January 1, and December 31 - and don't worry about what happens in between those time frames. We also explain to them that out of a seven-year period they will probably have at least a couple of losing years but the cash flow is what is important.

Michael Moore

A key part about managing recession and bear market risk is having the right strategic portfolio allocation in place before the storm hits. Said differently, allocations are chosen to weather the storm when - not if - it hits, not in reaction to the storm.

In our view, this means building portfolio resilience through the four pillars of diversification, quality, liquidity and cash flow. A resilient portfolio may over- or under-emphasize one or more of these pillars, but should have ample exposure to all of them.

Having a sound asset allocation in place can then allow one to adjust the underlying investments within the broader asset allocation accordingly as the investment opportunity set changes.

Case in point, the historic bond market rout of 2022 created opportunities in investment grade bonds that hadn't been seen in more than 15 years.

Derek Myron

Sequence of returns risk is the enemy here and mindful portfolio design paired with prudent expense management. Proper understanding of your retirement income plan will be a good path to success for those worried about a changing interest rate environment/possible recession.

Sequence of returns risk is the risk that poor returns early/near retirement coupled with portfolio withdrawals (particularly outsized withdrawals) can exacerbate potential plan failures. Thus, it's important for retirees to work closely with their wealth advisors to identify and utilizing stable sources of income, determine appropriate investments with suitable drawdown risk for your tolerance and/or capacity to take risk, manage taxes including harvesting and depreciation utilization, track expense reduction, and more.

What are some useful tax strategies for retirement income?

Kyle Quinn

Some tax strategies that are useful for all ages are asset location, which puts tax-inefficient assets in tax deferred vehicles such as IRAs or Roth IRAs, utilizing tax loss harvesting in your portfolio - 2022 was a prime opportunity to do so.

When we look specifically at retirement, maximizing your Social Security plan stands out. Also, establishing a Roth IRA which distributes tax free (when conditions are met) and having a plan for your required minimum distributions.

We typically recommend a bucket strategy for retirement income, as a lot of people do, but I would stress the need to look at not only the risk factors, but also the tax implications of those payments when making the plan.

Stefan Meierhofer

Paying attention to tax strategies for retirement income is important, however there's no single right strategy, however. Each person's personal situation is different, and a tax strategy needs to be individually customized. When considering ways to reduce tax liabilities, retirees may want to speak to a financial advisor who can help navigate them through the best scenarios.

A few strategies to consider include:

- Deferring required minimum distributions (RMDs) and the taxes on those withdrawals by continuing to work.
- Donating to charity by making a qualified charitable donation of up to $100,000 a year directly from the IRA.
- Converting a regular IRA into a Roth IRA, which are tax-free and can be inherited free of inheritance tax.
- Delaying Social Security benefits until age 70.
- Utilizing 529 college savings plans.

Michael Moore

Investing in dividend growth stocks is a great way to invest for both dividends and growth in a tax efficient manner. Companies with a history of raising their dividends every year are essentially providing investors with an annual pay raise. Qualified dividends are taxed at the more favorable capital gains tax rates as opposed to the ordinary income rates charged on income from bonds.

One way to increase tax efficiency is to strategically place certain securities in different types of accounts based on the type of income produced by the security and the taxability of the account. The tax treatment on qualified dividends means that this strategy is most advantageous in non-retirement account.

Stocks also provide a better inflation hedge than more traditional income-oriented assets like bonds. Bonds serve a place in most well diversified portfolios too, but here it may make sense to locate bonds in tax deferred retirement accounts where the periodic interest payments will not be taxed until distribution, eliminating the annual tax drag on the non-retirement account(s).

Brent Wilsey

People get too hung up on the stock market and don't realize when you're a good value investor you are investing in strong companies with good fundamentals that have good tax advantages like long-term capital gains. Also, qualified dividends from equities can also be tax favored as well. Depending on people's income and tax bracket, they may end up paying no taxes on capital gains or dividends.

➔ Management page 20

Telos Capital Management, Inc. is honored to be included in The San Diego Business Journal's list of Wealth Management Firms for 2023. Above all, we thank our clients for placing their trust and confidence in us every day!

“We strive to improve the lives of our clients by taking a personalized approach to investing that incorporates their preferences and values and puts them on track to achieve their life goals and retirement dreams.”

Successful investing involves making choices that meet your unique needs today and your financial goals for the future. Yet making smart investment decisions can be complicated.

At Telos Capital Management, Inc., our experienced and highly credentialed team of professionals has spent decades managing the many complexities of investing – providing customized and comprehensive solutions designed to grow and preserve wealth, along with highly personalized service.

For more information, please visit www.telosinc.com

13480 Evening Creek Drive North,
Suite 250, San Diego, CA 92128
Phone: 858.271.6350

telosinc.com

Management

➔ from page 19

We also do tax-loss harvesting throughout the entire year as opposed to waiting until the end of the year. At my firm we're always thinking down the road two or three moves - not just what is going to happen tomorrow. Tax-loss harvesting the way we do it is not just selling losses because that can hurt your portfolio return down the road. What we will do most of the time is if we are down in a position 20 -25%, we may step in and buy those shares of equal amount and wait 31 days or longer to sell off the shares at a loss. What this does is prevent the retirees account from missing a 5% or 10% movement in the quality equity for the tax loss.

What kinds of investment accounts are useful for retirees/near retirees to use for passing wealth to family, and what are the pros and cons?

Stefan Meierhofer

With IRAs and employer-sponsored retirement plans, the remaining funds generally pass directly to the designated beneficiary/ies upon death. Spouses, children and grandchildren, trusts and charities are common beneficiary choices. However, the SECURE Act eliminates the 'stretch' for most beneficiaries. They must close out an inherited IRA in 10 years, thereby realizing income from a traditional IRA more rapidly and taking the tax hit sooner (this does not apply to the surviving spouse who can spread annual distributions over their single life expectancy).

An attractive option to increase the amount passing to the beneficiaries of an IRA would be to convert a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA over time and for the account owner of the IRA to pay the associated taxes from funds outside the IRA account. Beneficiaries inheriting the new Roth IRA would still have to withdraw all funds from the account over a 10-year period but will do so income-tax free.

Mark Kremers

While not an investment account per se, trusts can provide a financial legacy to the people and causes you care about. Trusts allow for specific control over how your wealth is used and protected. You can think of a trust as a container that holds your assets — like investments, real estate and businesses. With the help of your lawyer, accountant and financial advisor, you establish the rules for what happens to the assets in your trust and who manages it, either during your lifetime or after you die, and name beneficiaries.

You can set up a trust while you are alive to provide for the management of assets in the event that you no longer can. Trusts are also useful in helping ensure that your money is distributed as you wish. Overall, trusts provide you with more control, and your loved ones with protection and investment guidance after you are gone.

Derek Myron

There are many ways to pass wealth to heirs, however, there is one type of asset that can be extremely inefficient when it comes to wealth transfer, and that is retirement accounts. The reason for this is possible double taxation (both income tax and estate tax). As compared to non-retirement assets, which receive a step up in cost basis upon expiry (avoiding any income tax haircut for heirs), the amount of wealth received by the end beneficiary(s) is substantially reduced.

Thus, for those who will likely pay an estate tax in transferring assets it is best to consume one's retirement assets during your lifetime or utilize these assets for charitable purposes. This will help you avoid paying estate tax and pass more tax efficient assets such as non-qualified assets as well as those that are gifted outside of the taxable estate, utilizing the gift exemption.

Why should one consider setting up trusts prior to their incapacity/expiry?

Bambos Charalambous

A trust provides benefits to the grantor and beneficiaries, including tax efficiency, control of assets, protection of family wealth, and privacy. Trust ownership of assets can protect from prying eyes and avoid a public probate process. Additionally, trusts can allow individuals to transfer assets off their balance sheets so any future appreciation is not subject to estate taxes.

What actions can be taken to mitigate tax exposure in a trust/estate plan?

Derek Myron

At present, gift tax and estate tax exemptions are around $13 million per individual and around $26 million per married couple. These are the highest levels on record, and the current law set forth by the Tax Cuts & Jobs Act of 12/22/17 (TCJA) states that the exemptions will sunset on Jan. 1, 2026, back down to the level pre TCJA; adjusted for inflation.

This is approximately half the level of the current exemption and there is legislative risk threatening to cut this down even further and make it even more draconian (e.g., avoidance of step-up, death tax, etc.). Thus, anyone with assets expected to exceed these estate tax exemption levels in 2026 (which will be around 6.5 million for individual and $13 million for couple) and/or who is worried about legislative risk taking away the ability to get substantial assets to heirs for no/low tax, should consider the design and construction of their current wealth transfer plans.

Brent Wilsey

I recommend good quality equities for the long-term plan of retirees that can also be a benefit on the estate planning side. People get too wrapped up in the day-to-day volatility and think stocks are too risky. I tell people you make stocks risky by doing silly things, such as looking at short-term movements and not thinking out for at least two or three years. We talk to our clients about generational growth by the use of equities, which can continue to grow for their heirs.

One of the few things that the government and IRS gives taxpayers is the step up in basis at death. We have some clients who are sitting on large capital gains and have good equities that we have held for many years. It is unbelievable to me many times how beneficial the step up in basis is for people with just decent sized estates. I worry, someday that the government will get wise to this and take this benefit away. But for now, it is there, and we love it.

Matt Hansen

There are several actions that can be taken to mitigate tax exposure in a trust/estate plan, including:

Utilizing the lifetime gift tax exemption and annual gift tax exclusion to transfer wealth to heirs while alive.

Setting up trusts to take advantage of estate and gift tax exemptions.

Establishing trusts in states with favorable tax laws.

Taking advantage of charitable giving options to reduce taxes.

Structuring an irrevocable life insurance trust (ILIT) and gifting assets to make annual premium payments outside of one's estate for the heirs to pay any future estate tax due could help keep them from being forced to sell illiquid assets like real estate or a business interest to pay estate taxes.

Wilsey Asset Management

Proud
Investment
Partner of the San Diego
Padres

Smartinvesting2000.com
858-546-4306

Are there ways to pass on money to heirs while still alive to avoid inheritance tax as well as gift tax?

Michael Moore

Gift tax is a common concern that doesn't apply to most people. This is because the current gift/estate tax exemption for 2023 is $12.92 million for individuals and $25.84 million for a married couple. This means that those amounts may be given away over the course of one's lifetime and/or as part of their estate without triggering a gift tax.

However, these are expected to sunset at the end of 2025 and revert to pre-2017 levels indexed for inflation, which is about half the current amounts.

In addition to the lifetime exclusion, there is also an annual exclusion amount. Currently any person can give $17,000 a year to anyone without triggering a gift tax return or reducing the lifetime exclusion amounts above, and married spouses can each do this.

Fortunately, in California, we don't have additional inheritance tax, but six states currently do. We help clients identify if these taxes may be a concern for them, and if so, there are several estate planning techniques using trusts to help mitigate exposure to hefty taxes.

For wealthy individuals worried about how their heirs will use or abuse their inheritance, what trust strategies are there?

Matt Hansen

There are several trust strategies that can be used to address concerns about how heirs will use or abuse their inheritance. These include:

Spendthrift trusts, which limit the beneficiary's access to trust assets and protect the assets from creditors.

Special needs trusts, which provide for beneficiaries with disabilities while preserving their eligibility for government benefits.

Generation-skipping trusts, which allow assets to pass to grandchildren or later generations while avoiding estate taxes.

Incentive trusts, which provide distributions to beneficiaries based on meeting certain conditions or achieving certain goals.

Charitable trusts, charitable remainder trust (CRT) or testamentary charitable lead annuity trusts (TCLATs) could be a way to shift estate tax-exposed assets into a charitable trust which could avoid estate taxes, allow for donations to charities, and also provide for a future benefit for the owner or heirs of the trust.

Complexity arises with the transfer of a family business, what could go wrong? What are the goals in passing on a business – fairness or equality?

Matt Hansen

Complexity can arise with the transfer of a family business due to factors such as difficulty in valuing the business and determining a fair distribution of assets. It is important to get periodic valuations done. Another factor is the challenge of identifying a successor who has the skills and expertise to run the business. Hiring an external or promoting from within can cause issues with the successors. Emotional attachments and family dynamics can also complicate decision-making.

The goals in passing on a business can vary depending on the family's priorities. Some families prioritize fairness, ensuring that each heir receives an equal share of the business, while others prioritize equality, ensuring that each heir receives a share that is proportional to their involvement in the business or their financial contributions. Families can utilize an ESOP plan to transition their business to the second generation in a tax favored way for the owner.

Derek Myron

A family business can be extremely complicated to pass on and continue running after the death of the primary owner. This often comes about due to family dynamics, disproportionate involvement in the business and a host of other factors and considerations.

If all of your heirs participate equally and agree with equal ownership, responsibility, etc. that's fantastic. However, this is usually not the case, and often leads to confusion in terms of what to do with the business. Do you pass it on to those involved and benefit them substantially more than others not involved; divide it equally and make those running the business support those not involved; or sell it to another party and cash out entirely?

All of these are opportunities, and the right solution depends upon the facts, circumstances, and preferences of the business and family. Thus, proper business succession planning is required and should be looked at well in advance of any business transfer/disposition.

Wealth transfer by the numbers

$84.4 trillion:

The projected U.S. wealth transfer through 2045

$72.6 trillion vs. $11.9 trillion:

The amount of assets transferred to heirs vs. the amount donated to charities

63% of transfers will be from Baby Boomers, totaling approximately $53 trillion.

42% of the total volume of wealth transfer is expected to be from high-net-worth individuals, totaling approximately $35.8 trillion.

Source: Cerulli Associates: "U.S. High-Net-Worth and Ultra-High-Net-Worth Markets 2021."

Mark Kremers

There are many ways to structure the transfer of a business to family members to protect yourself and the new owners. Your goals could be to leave yourself with income to support your life's next act or perhaps stay somewhat involved in a business you love. You should structure a transfer to serve your goals.

For example, you can consider transferring all or just part of the business as a gift and drawing an income from the new owners, while keeping in mind the lifetime federal gift tax exemption. You might also sell your business to heirs by lending them the money through a sale, in exchange for a promissory note, which allows the buyer to pay you back directly, providing yourself with a steady income stream.

Bambos Charalambous

There are a number of key challenges to face when handing down a family business. Those challenges include: failure to identify and prepare the next generation of leaders, inadequate estate planning, poorly planned disposition of assets among family members, failure to balance the capital needs of the business against the risks of concentrated wealth, and family discord. It's important to know where you want to go so you can take the necessary steps to get there. Therefore business owners need to articulate what their goals are for their immediate family, for each extended family member, and for the business. Only then can they assess where these various goals converge—and possibly diverge.

Estate planning by the numbers

64: Percentage of Americans who think a will is important

34: Percentage of Americans who have an estate plan

63: Percentage increase of 18–34-year-olds with estate plans since 2020

1 in 4: The ratio of Americans without a will who plan on not ever getting one

Source: Caring.com survey

How can wealth managers help in a seamless transition for families inheriting wealth?

Matt Hansen

Wealth managers can help in a seamless transition for families inheriting wealth by:

Assisting with estate planning and trust management to ensure that assets are distributed according to the family's wishes.

Providing financial planning and investment management services to help heirs manage their inherited wealth.

Offering guidance on tax planning and strategies for minimizing tax exposure.

Providing support and education to heirs to help them understand their responsibilities and manage their inherited assets effectively.

Bambos Charalambous

Wealth managers can help enhance efficiencies in estate and tax planning as they help think through wealth transfer strategies. For example, one may consider gifting interests in your business to a trust. In 2023, each individual has the lifetime ability to transfer up to $12.92 million free of transfer taxes. Alternatively, one might consider transferring the appreciation on holdings through a Grantor Retained Annuity Trust (GRAT) or engaging in charitable gifting to help offset capital gains tax liabilities.

Kyle Quinn

Wealth managers/financial planners can assist in several ways to make the inheriting wealth occurrence go more smoothly. First of all, in a perfect world you have worked with parents prior so they had a plan in place. But regardless, you need to make sure the estate has been settled, the taxes paid and ensure the trust provisions have been executed coordinating using multiple professionals such as CPA's, trust company and corporate trustee services. You don't want any surprises or liabilities when monies have already been deployed.

Also, it is good to note that California doesn't have a separate inheritance tax. When the funds are received, ensure a proper financial plan is in place, the trust is established and be intentional about what the monies are for.

Finally, be mindful and empathic that your client is grieving the loss of loved one so their priorities or timelines may be different.

Mark Kremers

What's often overlooked in setting up an estate plan in a family is what comes before that step — making often-difficult decisions about who gets what when and sharing your plans with your heirs. This can be an emotional and financial minefield. In fact, 70% of wealthy families lose their fortune by the second generation, according to a study cited by Merrill.

Your financial advisor and estate attorney or tax professional can help you plan a seamless transition by helping you think through a number of questions, such as whether to pass on your legacy, or a portion of it, while you're still alive and how to structure your estate so that tax consequences are minimized. Yet when it comes to holding a family meeting to communicate your plans, few people think to ask their financial advisor to be involved. Often, having an objective advisor present to lead the conversation and answer questions can help family members open up about their hopes, dreams, values and ambitions.

What are common issues/problems heirs may encounter that wealth managers can help with?

Derek Myron

A good estate plan allows heirs to inherit wealth with help and support in how to manage it. That is done by working with a qualified team of professionals to establish a plan, and to build enough trust and rapport with the heirs to help them feel comfortable working together, learning, and managing their new life.

Certain assets can prove problematic for heirs, such as rental properties, closely held businesses, stocks and bonds involving complex strategies, alternative assets with onerous tax reporting requirements, etc.

Having a competent, experienced, and qualified financial advisor will help identify whether or not your current estate plan meets your goals/objectives and make can make modifications as necessary. Additionally, they can help set up business succession plans, sell real estate assets that are directly managed and exchange into syndicated deals where management is delegated. There are many examples, but wealth can be burdensome if not well planned for.

WEALTH MANAGEMENT FIRMS

Ranked by assets managed locally for fiscal year 2022

| Rank | CompanyAddressWebsitePhone                                                                                                                             | Logo | Total assets managed:20222021% + (-) | Services           |                    |                  |                 |                           |       |        | Compensation |           |                        | Min. investment account:IndividualInstitution | # of local portfolio managers or investment advisers | Top local exec.(s)CIOYear est. locally                              | Photo |
|------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------|--------------------|------------------|-----------------|---------------------------|-------|--------|--------------|-----------|------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
|      |                                                                                                                                                                    |      |                                                  | Financial planning | Brokerage services | Asset management | Estate planning | Life insurance/risk mgmt. | Other | Hourly | Commissions  | Fixed fee | Performance-based fees |                                                       |                                                      |                                                                             |       |
| 1    | Chandler Asset Management Inc.6255 Lusk Blvd., San Diego 92121www.chandlerasset.com800-317-4747                                                 |      | $28.6B$25.8B11                         | N                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $250,000$10,000,000                             | 15                                                   | Nicole DragoJayson SchmittWilliam DennehyScott Prickett1988 |       |
| 2    | Wells Fargo Wealth Management4465 Executive Drive, Suite 1000, San Diego 92121www.wellsfargo.com/the-private-bank/san-diego-office/858-261-6230 |      | $26.2B$27.7B(5)                        | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | Y      | Y            | Y         | Y                      | $1,000,000$1,000,000                            | 183                                                  | Joseph DeFalco1855                                                      |       |
| 3    | Merrill Lynch Wealth Management701 B St., Suite 2400, San Diego 92101www.ml.com619-699-3700                                                     |      | $25.7B$24.0B7                          | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | Y     | N      | Y            | Y         | N                      | $250,000$10,000,000                             | 165                                                  | Mark Kremers1922                                                        |       |
| 4    | UBS Financial Services Inc.1200 Prospect St., Suite 100, La Jolla 92037www.ubs.com858-454-9181                                                  |      | $23.1B$22.0B5                          | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N      | Y            | Y         | Y                      | $1,000,000$1,000,000                            | 99                                                   | Justin FrameSolita Marcellelli2001                                  |       |
| 5    | Brandes Investment Partners L.P.4275 Executive Square, Fifth Floor, La Jolla 92037www.brandes.com858-755-0239                                   |      | $18.9B$22.7B(17)                       | N                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $100,000 <sup>(1)</sup>$10,000,000              | 22                                                   | Brent WoodsKenneth Little1974                                       |       |
| 6    | Northern Trust4747 Executive Drive, Suite 1100, San Diego 92121www.northerntrust.com858-824-1200                                                |      | $6.0B$6.1B(2)                          | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $3,000,000$50,000,000                           | 13                                                   | Paul ThielAngelo Manioudakis1989                                    |       |
| 7    | J.P. Morgan Private Bank12860 El Camino Real, Suite 200, San Diego 92130www.privatebank.jpmorgan.com/san-diego858-812-6131                      |      | $6.0B$5.4B11                           | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | Y     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $5,000,000$0                                    | 30                                                   | Bambos CharalambousDavid Regan2019                                  |       |
| 8    | LM Capital Group LLC750 B St., Suite 3010, San Diego 92101www.lmcapital.com619-814-1401                                                         |      | $4.6B$4.9B(6)                          | N                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $10,000,000$10,000,000                          | 6                                                    | Luis MaizelJohn Chalker1989                                         |       |
| 9    | HoyleCohen LLC350 Camino de la Reina, Suite 500, San Diego 92108www.hoylecohen.com858-576-7300                                                  |      | $2.7B$3.2B(15)                         | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $1,000,000$1,000,000                            | 21                                                   | Mark DelfinoVanessa Wieliczko2001                                   |       |
| 10   | Pure Financial Advisors LLC3131 Camino del Rio N., Suite 1550, San Diego 92108www.purefinancial.com619-814-4100                                 |      | $2.2B$2.9B(26)                         | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $0$0                                            | 8                                                    | Joseph AndersonBrian Perry2007                                      |       |
| 11   | CoastEdge Partners LLC888 Prospect St., Suite 220, La Jolla 92037www.coastedge.com858-997-2777                                                  |      | $2.2B$2.1B1                            | N                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $5,000,000$5,000,000                            | 5                                                    | Steve SimpsonRich Effress2010                                       |       |
| 12   | Crest Capital Advisors12680 High Bluff Drive, Suite 450, San Diego 92130www.crestcapadv.com858-356-6340                                         |      | $2.1B$2.2B(5)                          | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $10,000,000$10,000,000                          | 3                                                    | Drew NordlichtDavid Molnar2012                                      |       |
| 13   | AlphaCore Capital875 Prospect St., Suite 315, San Diego 92037www.alphacorewealth.com858-875-4100                                                |      | $1.6B$1.5B12                           | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $1,200,000$5,000,000                            | 14                                                   | Dick Pfister2015                                                        |       |
| 14   | Callan Capital1250 Prospect St., Suite 1, La Jolla 92037www.callancapital.com858-551-3800                                                       |      | $1.5B$1.5B0                            | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $2,000,000$2,000,000                            | 6                                                    | Trevor CallanRyan CallanTim Callan2007                          |       |
| 15   | Mariner Wealth Advisors11512 El Camino Real, Suite 370, San Diego 92130www.marinerwealthadvisors.com858-795-9000                                |      | $1.1B$1.2B(9)                          | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $0$0                                            | 13                                                   | Kyle QuinnKatrina Scott2011                                         |       |

(NR) Not ranked

Sources: The firms and CPA/CFO-attested statements.

To the best of our knowledge, this information is accurate as of press time. While every effort is made to ensure the accuracy and thoroughness of the list, omissions and typographical errors sometimes occur. Please send corrections or additions to the Research Department at the San Diego

Business Journal at sdbjlists@sdbj.com. This list may not be reprinted in whole or in part without prior written permission from the editor. Some companies have declined to participate or did not return a survey by press time. It is not the intent of this list to endorse the participants or to imply a firm's size or numerical rank indicates its quality.

(1) Through approved programs.

WEALTH MANAGEMENT FIRMS

Ranked by assets managed locally for fiscal year 2022

| Rank | CompanyAddressWebsitePhone                                                                                                        | Logo | Total assets managed:20222021% + (-) | Services           |                    |                  |                 |                           |       |        | Compensation |           |                        | Min. investment account:IndividualInstitution | # of local portfolio managers or investment advisers | Top local exec.(s)CIOYear est. locally      | Photo |
|------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------|--------------------|------------------|-----------------|---------------------------|-------|--------|--------------|-----------|------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|-------|
|      |                                                                                                                                               |      |                                                  | Financial planning | Brokerage services | Asset management | Estate planning | Life insurance/risk mgmt. | Other | Hourly | Commissions  | Fixed fee | Performance-based fees |                                                       |                                                      |                                                     |       |
| 16   | Christopher Weil &amp; Co. Inc.11236 El Camino Real, Suite 200, San Diego 92130www.cweil.com858-724-6040                   |      | $1.1B$1.0B5                            | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N      | N            | Y         | Y                      | $842,254$0                                      | 9                                                    | John Wells1995                                  |       |
| 17   | Weatherly Asset Management832 Camino del Mar, Suite 4, Del Mar 92014www.weatherlyassetmgt.com858-259-4507                  |      | $1.0B$1.2B(17)                         | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $1,500,000$1,500,000                            | 9                                                    | Carolyn Taylor1994                              |       |
| 18   | Aspiriant12481 High Bluff Drive, Suite 110, San Diego 92130www.aspiriant.com858-755-8899                                   |      | $1.0B$1.1B(12)                         | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | Y      | N            | Y         | N                      | $1,500,000$1,500,000                            | 18                                                   | Mark PetriePaul HynesJohn Allen1987     |       |
| 19   | WestPac Wealth Partners5280 Carroll Canyon Road, Suite 300, San Diego 92121www.westpacwealth.com619-684-6400               |      | $845.6M$781.4M8                        | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | N     | N      | Y            | Y         | N                      | $10,000$25,000                                  | 30                                                   | Nash Subotic2012                                |       |
| 20   | Private Asset Management Inc.5348 Carroll Canyon Road, Suite 200, San Diego 92121www.pamgmt.com858-750-4200                |      | $807.2M$1.1B(25)                       | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | Y     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $100,000$100,000                                | 5                                                    | Jeffrey WittDavid Allen1993                 |       |
| 21   | Blankinship &amp; Foster LLC420 Stevens Ave., Suite 250, Solana Beach 92075www.bfadvisors.com858-755-5166                  |      | $690.0M$786.5M(12)                     | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | Y      | N            | Y         | N                      | $1,000,000$1,000,000                            | 7                                                    | Stefan PrvanovMengxi (Monica) Ma1989        |       |
| 22   | Centura Wealth Advisory12255 El Camino Real, Suite 125, San Diego 92130www.centurawealth.com858-771-9500                   |      | $621.7M$584.6M6                        | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | Y      | N            | Y         | N                      | $1,500,000$1,000,000                            | 6                                                    | Derek MyronChristopher Osmond2018           |       |
| 23   | Stolper &amp; Co.2305 Historic Decatur Road, Suite 100, San Diego 92106www.stolperco.com619-231-9102                       |      | $580.9MN/AN/A                           | N                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $1,000,000$1,000,000                            | 1                                                    | Barbara MaloneTyler Rowe1975                |       |
| 24   | American Money ManagementP.O. Box 675203, Rancho Santa Fe 92067www.amminvest.com858-755-0909                               |      | $535.0M$550.0M(3)                      | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | Y     | Y      | N            | N         | Y                      | $100,000$100,000                                | 12                                                   | Gabriel WisdomMichael Moore1999             |       |
| 25   | Marine Street Financial7825 Fay Ave., Suite 240, La Jolla 92037www.marinestreetfinancial.com858-754-3501                   |      | $525.0M$495.0M6                        | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $100,000$500,000                                | 5                                                    | Perry BaconDaniel Racicot2013               |       |
| 26   | Rowling &amp; Associates LLC8889 Rio San Diego Drive, Suite 202, San Diego 92108www.rowling.com619-295-0200                |      | $513.0M$600.0M(15)                     | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | Y     | N      | N            | Y         | N                      | $0$0                                            | 4                                                    | Juan AguilarLorenzo Sanchez2020             |       |
| 27   | Creative Capital Management Investments LLC8880 Rio San Diego Drive, Suite 1150, San Diego 92108www.mycmmi.com619-298-3993 |      | $488.3M$510.2M(4)                      | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $500,000$500,000                                | 4                                                    | Brian MatterMatt Showley2017 <sup>(1)</sup> |       |
| 28   | Telos Capital Management Inc.12121 Scripps Summit Drive, Suite 350, San Diego 92131www.telosinc.com858-271-6350            |      | $474.0M$441.0M7                        | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | N         | N                      | $250,000$250,000                                | 11                                                   | Stefan MeierhoferAndy Weld1986              |       |
| 29   | Financial Alternatives Inc.7825 Fay Ave., Suite 210, La Jolla 92037www.financialalternatives.com858-459-8289               |      | $460.3M$458.5M0                        | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | Y      | N            | Y         | N                      | $2,000,000$2,000,000                            | 5                                                    | Jim FreemanChris Jaccard1991                |       |
| 30   | Ariston Services Group LLC750 B St., Suite 2630, San Diego 92101www.aristonservicesgroup.com619-241-2326                   |      | $455.5M$505.0M(10)                     | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | N     | N      | N            | Y         | Y                      | $2,000,000$2,000,000                            | 2                                                    | Peter Shenar2008                                |       |

(NR) Not ranked
 Sources: The firms and CPA/CFO-attested statements.
 To the best of our knowledge, this information is accurate as of press time. While every effort is made to ensure the accuracy and thoroughness of the list, omissions and typographical errors sometimes occur. Please send corrections or additions to the Research Department at the San Diego Business Journal at sdbjlists@sdbj.com. This list may not be reprinted in whole or in part without prior written permission from the editor. Some companies have declined to participate or did not return a survey by press time. It is not the intent of this list to endorse the participants or to imply a firm's size or numerical rank indicates its quality.
 (1) Founding firm was established in 1975, but successor firm was founded in 2017.

WEALTH MANAGEMENT FIRMS

Ranked by assets managed locally for fiscal year 2022

| Rank | CompanyAddressWebsitePhone                                                                                                       | Logo | Total assets managed:20222021% + (-) | Services           |                    |                  |                 |                           |       | Compensation |             |           | Min. investment account:IndividualInstitution | # of local portfolio managers or investment advisers | Top local exec.(s)CIOYear est. locally | Photo                                      |                        |
|------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------|--------------------|------------------|-----------------|---------------------------|-------|--------------|-------------|-----------|-------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|------------------------|
|      |                                                                                                                                              |      |                                                  | Financial planning | Brokerage services | Asset management | Estate planning | Life insurance/risk mgmt. | Other | Hourly       | Commissions | Fixed fee |                                                       |                                                      |                                                |                                            | Performance-based fees |
| 31   | Symbio Financial Partners7777 Fay Ave., Suite 315, La Jolla 92037www.symbiofinancialpartners.com858-551-8770              |      | $425.0MN/AN/A                           | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | Y                         | N     | N            | Y           | N         | N                                                     | $500,000$500,000                               | 4                                              | Shari MillerMichael Dorvillier1992 |                        |
| 32   | Wilsey Asset Management10620 Treena St., Suite 100, San Diego 92131www.wilseyassetmanagement.com858-546-4306              |      | $365.2M$388.7M(6)                      | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | Y            | N           | Y         | N                                                     | $100,000$0                                     | 2                                              | Brent Wilsey1995                       |                        |
| 33   | Beta Wealth Group11421 W. Bernardo Court, San Diego 92127www.betawealthgroup.com858-207-3377                              |      | $359.0M$410.0M(12)                     | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | N     | Y            | N           | Y         | N                                                     | $0$0                                           | 3                                              | Jodi Vleck2009                         |                        |
| 34   | Clelland &amp; Co. Inc.5151 Shoreham Place, Suite 130, San Diego 92122www.clelland.com858-587-8700                        |      | $357.0M$392.5M(9)                      | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | N     | N            | N           | Y         | N                                                     | $500,000$1,000,000                             | 2                                              | Matthew Medeiros1989                   |                        |
| 35   | Aldrich Wealth LP1903 Wright Place, Suite 180, Carlsbad 92008www.wealthadvisors.com760-431-8440                           |      | $311.6M$350.1M(11)                     | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | Y     | Y            | N           | Y         | N                                                     | $150,000$1,000,000                             | 4                                              | Carl PinkardDarin Richards1998     |                        |
| 36   | Hall Private Wealth Advisors2305 Historic Decatur Rd, Suite 100, San Diego 92106www.hallpwa.com858-263-1677               |      | $300.0M$275.0M9                        | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | Y            | Y           | Y         | Y                                                     | $2,000,000$2,000,000                           | 4                                              | Russell Hall2015                       |                        |
| 37   | Platt Wealth Management3838 Camino del Rio N., Suite 365, San Diego 92108www.plattwm.com619-255-9554                      |      | $288.0M$256.0M13                       | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N            | N           | Y         | N                                                     | $500,000$500,000                               | 3                                              | Jeff Platt2018                         |                        |
| 38   | Copley Financial Group Inc.2650 Camino Del Rio N., Suite 350, San Diego 92108www.financialplannersandiego.com619-294-6008 |      | $232.6M$226.5M3                        | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | Y     | N            | N           | N         | N                                                     | $100,000$100,000                               | 5                                              | Matthew Copley2013                     |                        |
| 39   | Silvia McColl Wealth Management402 W. Broadway, Suite 2100, San Diego 92101www.silviamccoll.com619-637-9920               |      | $218.0M$240.0M(9)                      | Y                  | N                  | Y                | Y               | N                         | Y     | Y            | N           | Y         | N                                                     | $750,000$2,000,000                             | 2                                              | William McCollBrandon Silvia2018   |                        |
| 40   | Guide My Finances1265 Carlsbad Village Drive, Suite 201, Carlsbad 92008www.guidemyfinances.com760-547-7585                |      | $161.1M$149.7M8                        | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | Y            | Y           | Y         | N                                                     | $250,000$250,000                               | 4                                              | Jackie Mazur2009                       |                        |
| 41   | D'Arcy Capital Management12625 High Bluff Drive, San Diego 92130www.darcycapital.com858-461-4391                          |      | $139.6M$146.1M(4)                      | N                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N            | N           | N         | N                                                     | $500,000$1,000,000                             | 2                                              | Brett D'ArcyKrysta Cordill2011     |                        |
| 42   | Bull Oak Capital4747 Executive Drive, Suite 1010, San Diego 92121www.bulloakcapital.com858-999-3550                       |      | $121.6M$116.2M5                        | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N            | N           | N         | N                                                     | $1,412,328$1,412,328                           | 1                                              | Ryan Hughes2014                        |                        |
| 43   | Zeit Capital Advisors10755 Scripps Poway Parkway, Suite 429, San Diego 92131www.zeitcapital.com206-713-9655               |      | $117.8M$126.8M(7)                      | Y                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N            | N           | N         | N                                                     | $100,000$100,000                               | 1                                              | Phillip J. Weber2015                   |                        |
| 44   | Nerad + Deppe Wealth Management4250 Executive Square, Suite 545, La Jolla 92037www.nd-wm.com858-457-1325                  |      | $112.0M$113.1M(1)                      | N                  | N                  | Y                | N               | N                         | N     | N            | N           | Y         | N                                                     | $500,000$500,000                               | 2                                              | Richard NeradSteven Deppe2009      |                        |
| NR   | PNC Bank<sup>(1)</sup>12255 El Camino Real, Suite 200, San Diego 92130www.pnc.com858-200-7375                             |      | $0N/AN/A                                | Y                  | Y                  | Y                | Y               | Y                         | N     | N            | N           | N         | N                                                     | $1,000,000$1,000,000                           | 1                                              | Marcy Mackless2022                     |                        |

(NR) Not ranked
Sources: The firms and CPA/CFO-attested statements.
To the best of our knowledge, this information is accurate as of press time. While every effort is made to ensure the accuracy and thoroughness of the list, omissions and typographical errors sometimes occur. Please send corrections or additions to the Research Department at the San Diego Business Journal at sdbjlists@sdbj.com. This list may not be reprinted in whole or in part without prior written permission from the editor. Some companies have declined to participate or did not return a survey by press time. It is not the intent of this list to endorse the participants or to imply a firm's size or numerical rank indicates its quality.
(1) PNC Bank launched its private bank division in 4Q22.

Get a FREE* LEGOLAND® Ticket!

when you open a SDCCU FREE Checking with eStatements account!

Open your new account today!
sdccu.com/LEGOLAND

*Membership required, but eligibility typically limited to certain Southern California residents. Offer valid now through April 30, 2023. While supplies last. New checking accounts opened in-branch only. Advanced LEGOLAND® California Resort reservations required at legoland.com/sdccu. Receive a voucher at account opening for a FREE LEGOLAND California Resort park ticket. Capacity restrictions apply. Tickets must be redeemed by September 15, 2023. Offer is not valid for members who already have a SDCCU checking account. LEGOLAND California Resort ticket vouchers have no cash value. Not available for business accounts. View full terms at sdccu.com/legoland.

LEGO, LEGOLAND the LEGO and LEGOLAND logos, the Minifigure and the Brick and Knob configurations are trademarks and/or copyrights of the LEGO Group. ©2023 The LEGO Group. LEGOLAND is a part of Merlin Entertainments Ltd.

sdccu.com®

(877) 732-2848

Federally insured by NCUA

